

DR. CLAIRE MCNULTY

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY

FUNDING SEMINAR

National Geographic invests in bold people and transformative ideas in the fields of conservation, education, research, storytelling, and technology. We are actively encouraging applications from around the world, especially from people at the beginning of their careers, but also more senior researchers in specific areas.

Come and hear Dr. Claire McNulty, Senior Director for National Geographic Society in Europe, tell you more about our priority funding areas, which includes a focus on the oceans, and give you information about applying for a grant and the additional support that National Geographic Explorers can receive.
